The Ironbound Community Corporation worked with this young journalist. to lay out this problem. We brought her on a tour to see the containers. We've done tours with the New Director of Planning and Community Development of the City of Newark, Toni Griffin, and we showed Deputy Mayor Margarita Munez the site. At least a half dozen Asst. Commis of NJDEP have visited Terrell Homes with us. In our meetings with the new Director of the Housing Authority and up to that point no one knew the City was receiving rent for this property. Elizabeth wrote a great article and though Director Kinnard has a bunch of other priorities, we think this publicity will advance the cause of the residents who would love access to the River.

I was surprised to learn that the Newark Housing Authority owns some of this land, and leases it to company for storage of the containers.
